

Sunday Series

Fall 2013

Co-sponsored by

Health Professions
ACCESS, ADVOCACY, AND LEADERSHIP

Health Issues in Global Perspectives

October 20th

Scientific Animations Without Borders

Maria Julia Bello Bravo (Assistant Director, International Programs and Studies, University of Illinois)

Barry Pittendrigh (Professor, Entomology, University of Illinois)

October 27th

Why Microbiology is the Nexus of Public Health, Engineering and Economic Development

Joanna Shisler (Associate Professor, Microbiology, University of Illinois)

November 10th

Lab-on-a-Chip HIV/AIDS Diagnostics for Global Health

Rashid Bashir (Professor, Electrical and Computer Engineering & Bioengineering, University of Illinois)

What is the Sunday Series? Each semester, the Global Crossroads Living-Learning Community invites members of the University community to come to PAR to share their work as it relates to the current theme. Afterwards, all attendees are encouraged to join the speaker at a dinner provided by Global Crossroads and University Catering. Sunday Series events are free and open to the public. This fall, GC teams up with Health Professions Living-Learning Community.

When: 4:00 P. M.

Where: Saunders Lounge, Pennsylvania Avenue Residence Halls (PAR)

Questions? Contact Lydia Khuri, Global Crossroads & Health Professions Program Director, at mkhuri@illinois.edu