Global Health Initiative Partner Application

A community-based international partnership in global health will be a long-term focal point for global engagement in the University of Illinois campus and surrounding community. Such a partnership will be a nucleation point for the CU community, faculty researchers and the next generation of global leaders – university students – through a highly interdisciplinary approach to solving global health challenges.

We are seeking locations around the world in which existing relationships might provide a basis for such a multi-faceted partnership. This international global health partnership will foster the collaboration of individuals of diverse intellectual, spiritual, cultural and ethnic backgrounds both at Illinois and in the partner community through addressing challenges threatening that which is among the most fundamental of human needs: health and wellness.

We invite the entire campus and CU community to share with us the international relationships already in existence that might provide successful foundations for this collaboration.
